Kids are the Future, Futsal is here

Minors & Youths take to the stage to play the game Futsal – the fastest growing indoor sport on the planet

I am delighted to announce @Futsal Birmingham Arena will be hosting the Premier League youth festivals again, giving us an opportunity to strengthen our relationship with a key high profile partner and cement @Futsal's reputation in the football community as the premier small sided football operator in Europe.

Premier League Collaboration
10th November 2011

PRESS RELEASE

Premier League & @Futsal Group Collaborate to deliver Futsal to top football clubs

The Premier League has selected @Futsal Group's international Futsal arena in Birmingham to host a number of events that will feature FIFA's only approved form of indoor football called Futsal ...

The Premier league will be inviting the academies from its professional clubs to play the fastest growing indoor sport in the world, in what is considered to be Europe's largest indoor Futsal arena in Birmingham. Budding stars of the future will get to follow the same development path as global football stars like Messi and Ronaldo, who honed their abilities playing the game of Futsal.

Frank Rodriguez, Managing Director of the @Futsal Group, commented, " We are delighted to be collaborating with The Premier League as this follows what many of the top European and South American professional clubs and players having been doing for years with combined Futsal and 11 a-side football programmes "

Futsal is now an important addition to our winter programme of festivals and tournaments that we deliver for Premier League and Football League Academy clubs." The collaboration is already expanding into other initiatives like a district schools Futsal Festival, which is already scheduled to take place in February 2012 and will also be hosted in Birmingham. Initiatives are likely to extend to other activity sessions including tournaments, player and coach development.

The Futsal arena is easily accessible from the ring road and located close to central Birmingham, so it can be reached from most locations within a short drive time. Public transport is also good, so if you have not had a chance to experience the future of small sided football, then get your team to the arena and sign-up for a taster game. The arena is simply amazing and you will never have seen or played in one like it – it's no wonder it is rapidly becoming a centre of excellence for the game having hosted flagship events like The FA Cup Futsal earlier this year.

About Futsal

Futsal is the only officially recognised form of indoor football accepted by FIFA, the world governing body for football. It is reported to be the world's fastest growing indoor sport with over 30 million players worldwide. Players such as Zidane, Ronaldo, Ronaldinho and many others have developed their abilities playing Futsal from a young age. The Football Association have recently adopted Futsal and it is now seen as a cornerstone of The FA's strategic development plans. Futsal is an indoor version of association football (soccer). The name "Futsal" simply combines the Spanish words for "hall" – Sala and "football" – Futbol into Futsal. It is the format of small sided football that is recognised and supported by FIFA, UEFA and recently the FA, with world and European championships taking place for club and national teams. Futsal is played between two teams of five players, one of who is a goalkeeper. In addition each team may have up to 7 substitutes, which means each team can comprise a maximum of 12 players. Unlike some other forms of indoor football, the playing arena boundaries are marked with lines, and not walls or boards that players can use to rebound the ball. Futsal is played with a smaller regulation ball with 30% less bounce than normal. The ball can also be kicked above head height, so goals are similar in size to hockey goals. Corners can be taken and throw-ins are replaced by kick-ins from touch lines, both of which must be taken within 4 seconds. This makes the game very fast, dynamic and exciting. As a small-sided game, players are constantly placed in situations where they must receive or play whilst under pressure or in confined spaces and it places considerable demand on technique, movement, tactical awareness and fitness. It is also very exciting and a huge amount of fun!
